Jean Spence Nagle, 2018

An Arlington native, Jean began in the Universalist Church of Arlington and joined First Parish UU with her family. Jean stays in close touch with siblings, children and grandchildren both near and far. Adept with numbers and logic, Jean worked as a programmer while mothering her daughters and sons. She has shared her talents in many roles at First Parish, serving as Treasurer to our Alliance and Assistant Treasurer to First Parish.

Jean's commitments are long term. For many years, she coordinated the hospitality for the Sunday Coffee Hour. She has convened our Women's Book Group and our weekly stitch and sew sessions, whose members create wonderful items for the annual First Parish fair. Jean has worked as a volunteer at blood drives at First Parish and is a key support of First Parish contributions to the Arlington Food Pantry. Music has also drawn Jean's talents: she plays flute with our parish wind ensemble and serves as Treasurer for the Arlington Philharmonic Society. Jean is a welcome, loyal, supportive member of our community, richly deserving of membership in the Clara Barton Sisterhood.
